Global Bio-Economy City, Jeonbuk State

Located in the southwestern part of South Korea, Jeonbuk State is an attractive region where tradition and modernity harmoniously coexist. Beautiful landscapes, shaped by nature's blessings, can be found throughout the area. Rich in history with a thousand-year legacy, it boasts cultural treasures and UNESCO World Heritage sites, preserving the world's finest uniqueness. The Korean Wave(Hallyu) has its roots in Jeonbuk, spreading across the globe, and in Saemangeum, a land of the future, it is opening new civilizations as a center of eco-friendly economy. Known as the agricultural capital, Jeonbuk also represents Korean food culture with its abundant agricultural infrastructure, fertile land, and culinary expertise.

Introduction to the 14 Cities and Counties of Jeonbuk State

Jeonju Hanok Village

1. Jeonju, A City of Dignified Traditional Culture

Jeonju, with its thousand-year history, is the largest city in Jeonbuk and a UNESCO-designated City of Gastronomy. Known for its rich traditional culture, including Hanok (traditional Korean houses), Hanji (Korean paper), and Hanbok (traditional clothing), Jeonju attracts 10 million visitors each year, famous for its food and culture.

Gunsan Modern Cultural Heritage

2. Gunsan, A Hub City of Northeast Asia with Saemangeum

Gunsan, located on the west coast, is a port city and a key area in the Saemangeum reclamation project, the largest in the world. It leads the development of future industries centered on eco-friendly energy. The city also preserves modern historical sites, including those from the Japanese colonial period, earning recognition as a modern cultural heritage preservation area.

Iksan Mireuksa Temple Site Stone Pagoda

3. Iksan, The City of World Heritage

Iksan, known as the ancient capital of the Baekje Dynasty, is home to significant cultural heritage, including the UNESCO World Heritage sites Mireuksaji Temple Site and Wanggungni, which offer a glimpse into Baekje's brilliant culture. It is also a center for the Korean jewelry industry and home to the Gemstone Museum.

Preparation for Study in Jeonbuk

1. General Education System

The education system of Korea follows a 6-3-3-4 structure, consisting of 3 years of kindergarten, 6 years of elementary school, 3 years of middle school, 3 years of high school, and 4 years of university. Among these, the 6 years of elementary school and 3 years of middle school are compulsory education and are provided free of charge.

Education System	School	Student Age	Duration of Education	Remarks
Early Childhood Education	Kindergarten	3~5 Years Old	3 Years
Elementary Education	Elementary School	6~11 Years Old	6 Years	Free Education
Secondary Education	Middle School	12~14 Years Old	3 Years	Free Education
	High School	15~17 Years Old	3 Years
Higher Education	University	18 Years or Older	4 Years

The academic year is divided into two semesters. The first semester runs from March to August, while the second semester is from September to February of the following year. During the semester, there is a summer vacation in July and August, and a winter vacation in January and February.

1st Semester	Mar.	Apr.	May	Jun.	Jul.	Aug.
					Summer Vacation
2nd Semester	Sep.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.	Jan.	Feb.
					Winter Vacation

2. Curriculum

Higher Education

In South Korea, higher education institutions are generally categorized into junior colleges (2-3 years), universities (4-year institutions), and graduate schools. Recently, with the advancement of information and communication technology, cyber universities, where e-Learning courses are primarily offered, have also been established and are operating. Additionally, graduate programs (Master's and Doctoral degrees) are typically offered by 4-year universities, but there has been a rise in "graduate universities" that offer only graduate-level programs without an undergraduate curriculum.

Degree Programs	University		Graduate School
	Associate Degree	Bachelor's Degree	Master's Degree	Doctoral Degree
Eligibility	Individuals who have completed all primary and secondary education in their home country (12 years of schooling)		Holders of a Bachelor's degree	Holders of a Master's degree
Duration of Study	2-3 Years	4-6 Years	2 years or more	3 years or more
Educational Institutions	Junior College	University	Graduate School

※ Important to Note: In South Korea, universities are categorized based on their founding entities. They are divided into public universities, which are established and operated by the state or local governments, and private universities, which are operated by private individuals or non-profit organizations

University

Regular Semester	A program where students take regular courses alongside domestic students during the regular spring and fall semesters. Taught in Korean → General Courses, Taught in a Foreign Language → General Courses Degree awarded upon graduation.
Short-term Programs	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> TOPIK L4 Student: University students currently enrolled at their home university, which has a sister university relationship with the one they wish to study at. Duration: 1 semester to 1 year. Visiting Program: Students study in Korea through their home university's study abroad program or as international students or graduates of their home university. Duration: 1 semester to 1 year. Other Programs: University students participating in Korean language and Korean studies programs during vacation periods. Duration: 2-3 months. ※ The required level of Korean proficiency for admission varies by university. So it is necessary to inquire with the individual university for specific language requirements.
Seasonal Semester	Students take regular courses or other subjects including Korean language classes during the summer or winter vacation.
Exclusive English-Taught Courses	Universities interested in the globalization of higher education currently offer approximately 30% of their courses in English.(Some universities have established international studies departments where all courses are conducted in English).
Korean Language Training	Many universities have established affiliated language institutes offering Korean language courses for foreigners. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 3Short-Term Courses (3-4 weeks): Designed to improve communication skills intensively over a short period. Regular Courses (10-40 weeks): Focus on enhancing communication skills through real-life task-based activities while incorporating cultural lessons to maximize learning effectiveness.

Graduate School

The duration of coursework for a Master's program is at least 2 years, typically requiring the completion of 24 credits. To obtain a Master's degree, students must earn the required credits, pass designated examinations, and submit a thesis, which is evaluated by a committee of at least three reviewers.

The duration of coursework for a Doctoral program is at least 3 years, typically requiring the completion of 36 credits. To obtain a Doctoral degree, students must earn the required credits, pass a comprehensive examination, and submit a dissertation, which is evaluated by a committee of at least five reviewers.

The postdoctoral program is designed for individuals who wish to continue their research after obtaining a Doctoral degree. Currently, many universities in Korea are conducting research projects by inviting postdoctoral researchers as part of the BK21 (Brain Korea 21) program.

II Preparation for Study in Korea

When selecting a university, it is essential to gather information through various channels and make a comprehensive decision.

(For example, search for the university name on portals to view related articles, review promotional materials prepared by the university, and explore study abroad experiences shared in international student communities.)

Since universities differ in various aspects, prospective students aiming to study in a specific region should verify in advance the admission requirements, duration of study, application procedures and documents, as well as study abroad expenses for the university they wish to attend.

1. Eligibility Requirements

Degree Programs	Requirements
Associate & Bachelor's Degrees	Applicants must have completed the full primary and secondary education courses (12 years) in their home country.
Master's Degree	Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree.
Doctoral Degree	Applicants must hold a master's degree.

※ The above eligibility requirements are general guidelines. Applicants should review the admission requirements of their desired university in advance.

※ In countries with an education system of fewer than 12 years, applicants who have completed the full primary and secondary education courses in their home country may be eligible for admission if the head of the university they are applying to verifies their graduation certificate and other supporting documents.

2. Application Period

Universities in Korea operate on a two-semester system, divided into spring and fall semesters. The spring semester begins in March, and the fall semester starts in September.

Applications for March (spring semester) admission are typically accepted from September to November of the previous year. Applications for September (fall semester) admission are generally accepted from April to June of the same year. Applications can also be submitted online.

Month	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12

4. Application Method

Admission to undergraduate programs is divided into two categories.

Freshman Admission: Available to those with a high school diploma or higher.

Transfer Admission: Available to those who have studied at a university for a certain period or hold a degree from a college or higher.

Most universities select students mainly through document screening, but some may conduct interviews or exams. Therefore, it is important to check the admission process of the university you wish to apply to in advance and prepare accordingly.

Required Documents for Application

Visa Issuance (Recognition) Application Form, Business Registration Certificate of the Educational Institution, Standard Admission Letter, Family Relationship Proof, Proof of Highest Education, Financial Proof, etc.

※ The application period, required documents, and admission schedule may vary by university and department. Please refer to the admission guidelines of the university you are applying to for detailed information.

※ Depending on the type of document (mainly the final education certificate), translation notarization or apostille verification may be required.

✓ Apostille System

A system for recognizing public documents issued abroad without consular verification within a country. As of November 7, 2023, 124 countries worldwide are part of the Apostille Convention. <https://www.apostille.go.kr>

Tip. Key academic terms and concepts from universities in the Jeonbuk area that are useful to know

Course Registration	The process of enrolling in courses before the start of each semester.
Course Evaluation	The process of evaluating a professor's teaching at the end of each semester.
Leave of Absence (Application)	Taking a break from studies with the school's approval for a certain period (foreign students must leave the country within 15 days of receiving approval for leave).
Reinstatement (Application)	Returning to school after being on suspension or leave of absence.
Academic Warning	Academic Warning: A warning given if a student's GPA at the end of the semester falls below the institution's set threshold (usually between 1.5 to 2.0 on a 4.5 scale, varying by school and year). Receiving three such warnings may lead to expulsion. (This may also affect visa extension eligibility.)
Major Change	Changing one's major with the approval of the school.
Double Major/ Minor	Applying for and completing additional credits from a different major(or department or school), in addition to the primary major, is considered a double major. This is generally indicated on the degree awarded upon graduation.
Exclusive English Course	English-Only Courses: Courses where lectures, exams, and all activities are conducted entirely in English. ※ A list of universities offering exclusive English courses can be found through ETS.
Expulsion	Student records are deleted for various reasons.
Voluntary Withdrawal	The act of a student choosing to leave the university of their own accord.

Korean Language Learning Method

| Korean Language Learning Method

1. University-affiliated Korean language institutes
2. Other Korean Language Learning Method
3. TOPIK (Test of Proficiency in Korean)

1. Korean Language Learning Method

If you need to study Korean before entering a degree program in Korea, you can learn the language through university-affiliated Korean language institutes or free Korean language courses.

1. University-affiliated Korean language institutes

University-affiliated Korean language institutes are the most commonly used method for students planning to attend university, as they offer systematic learning in all areas of speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Regular courses typically involve an average of 20 hours of classes per week, lasting for about 10 weeks, and the tuition fee is around 1.2 to 1.8 million KRW. Some programs also offer cultural experiences once a month, such as local sightseeing and traditional Korean cultural activities, for adult learners.

1) Admission Procedure

2) Examples of Required Documents

Visa application form, passport, standard admission letter, final school transcripts and graduation certificate, financial proof (equivalent to 10 million KRW), study plan, etc.

※ The required documents may vary by country and university, so it is essential to check the specific requirements on the respective university's website in advance.

3) Example of a Regular Course Program per Level

Beginner	• Understand and express basic words and simple sentences.
Elementary 1	• Construct essential vocabulary and basic sentence structures for everyday life.
Elementary 2	• Learn and correct accurate pronunciation, and identify phonological changes.
Intermediate 1	• Study vocabulary needed for everyday tasks such as understanding general societal phenomena and using public facilities.
Intermediate 2	• Learn proverbs, basic current affairs vocabulary, commonly used abstract words, and terminology related to current events.
Advanced 1	• Study idiomatic expressions, loanwords, and abstract vocabulary related to social phenomena.
Advanced 2	• Learn specialized terminology, slang, jargon, and abbreviations in various fields.
Proficiency	• As a preparatory stage for entering university or graduate school, or for employment, reach a proficiency level equivalent to a native speaker.

※ Foreigners entering Korea to attend university-affiliated Korean language institutes must obtain the required visa, usually a D-4 visa, from the Korean embassy or consulate. To obtain the visa, the admission letter from the language institute, a guarantor's letter or financial proof, and other documents are required. Since each Korean embassy may have different requirements based on nationality, it is essential to consult thoroughly and register after confirming the specific requirements in advance

3. TOPIK (Test of Proficiency in Korean)

To enter a university in Korea, you need the Test of Proficiency in Korean (TOPIK) score. The TOPIK is designed to guide non-native Korean speakers in their Korean language learning and assess their proficiency in the language. The results are used for purposes such as studying abroad, employment, and residency requirements.

• Exam schedule

- Six times a year (January, April, May, July, October, November)
- The detailed exam schedule is announced at the beginning of the year on the official TOPIK website.

• Conditions for Regular Degree Programs

Admission Requirements	TOPIK Level 3 or higher
Graduation Requirements	TOPIK Level 4 or higher

- However, if the department at the desired university conducts courses in English, applicants may be admitted with official English proficiency test scores (e.g., TOEFL) instead of TOPIK scores. Additionally, achieving TOPIK Level 4 or higher may not be mandatory for graduation in such cases.
- For TOPIK L4 students, government-invited scholars, foreign government-sponsored scholars, students enrolled in Korean language training institutions, or students in arts and physical education departments, the required Korean language proficiency for admission may differ.

※ The required level of Korean language proficiency for admission varies by university. Applicants must inquire directly with the individual university for specific requirements.

Study Visa Introduction

| Visa Application and Procedures

1. Study Visa (D-2)
2. General Training (D-4)
3. Change of Visa Status
4. Extension of Visa Status

Visa Application and Procedures

Prospective international students must obtain an admission letter, prepare the required documents for entry into Korea, and acquire a student visa through the Korean Embassy or Consulate in their home country.

International students enrolling in degree programs → D-2 Visa
 International students registering for non-degree programs (e.g., Korean language training, foreign language training) → D-4 Visa

To expedite the visa issuance process, Korea first issues a Certificate for Confirmation of Visa Issuance, which is then used to apply for a visa.

1. Study Visa (D-2)

1) Scope of Activities and Eligible Applicants

Educational Institutions Colleges or higher educational institutions including universities, affiliated language institutes or academic research institutes established under the Higher Education Act or special laws.

Exclusions The following institutions are excluded from eligibility for the Study (D-2) Visa:

- Broadcasting, correspondence, and cyber universities (distance learning institutions) established under Article 2, Clause 5 of the 「Higher Education Act」.
- Lifelong education institutions as defined in Article 2, Clause 2 of the 「Lifelong Education Act」.
- Vocational training programs offered by polytechnic colleges under Article 2, Clause 5 of the 「National Lifelong Vocational Skills Development Act」.
- Night colleges and graduate schools, except for certain programs authorized for Study Visa eligibility*:
* Night graduate schools without daytime courses or advanced major night programs at junior colleges that have undergone preliminary review by the jurisdictional immigration office for evening degree courses.

Eligible International Students Foreign nationals seeking to pursue a degree program or conduct specific research at the aforementioned institutions under a Study (D-2) Visa or Language Training (D-4-1, D-4-7) Visa.

2) Maximum Duration of Stay per Grant: Up to 2 years.

3) Application Location: Visa Issuance (Overseas Missions): Applicants must apply at the Korean Embassy or Consulate with jurisdiction over their country of residence or the location of their most recently attended school.

4) Required Documents

※ Important: For documents issued in foreign languages abroad, they must be translated and submitted with either notarization by a Korean consular office overseas or an Apostille certification from the issuing country.

- Important
- ① Visa issuance (approval) application form, copy of passport, and one photograph (taken within the last six months).
 - ② Copy of the educational institution's business registration certificate (or unique identification number certificate).

③ Standard letter of admission (issued by the university president or dean).

However, government scholarship students invited by the National Institute for International Education or the Ministry of National Defense may submit an invitation letter issued by the institute director or the Minister of National Defense as a substitute.

④ Tuberculosis diagnosis certificate (if applicable).

⑤ Proof of family relationship (only if submitting the parents' financial statement or balance certificate).

⑥ Proof of highest educational attainment:

- Proof of the highest educational attainment must, in principle, be submitted as the original document. However, copies may be accepted if degree verification reports or similar documents bear the official verification seal of the university staff. Personally requested and issued academic credentials will only be admitted only if they are within their validity period.

For General Countries

Submit academic credentials verified by Apostille certification or by a consul (either a Korean consul in the country of the issuing school or a consul of the issuing country's embassy in Korea) according to the format specified in the table below.

		Required Documents
Language Training (D-4-1) Program		Proof of educational attainment at least equivalent to high school graduation.
